EAC STUDENTS ONE-DAY EDUCATIONAL TOUR

On January 29, 2025, Debora Foundation India organized a one-day educational tour for seventh-grade students from various EAC centers in the Doddaballapur and Devanahalli Taluks. A total of 64 students from 17 villages participated in the tour.

The first stop was the Visvesvaraya Museum, where the group arrived at approximately 11:00 AM. The students had the opportunity to explore the museum's science laboratories and exhibits.

The next destination was the Jawaharlal Nehru Planetarium, where the students attended an educational show focused on the solar system. The final stop of the day was the DFI office at Kothanur. At this location, the EAC teachers were given a tour of the office, and the Managing Trustee and staff interacted with the students, gathering their feedback about the day's experiences. The students expressed their gratitude and shared their positive impressions of the tour.

After the educational visits concluded, the students were safely escorted back to their respective villages. The buses ensured that each student was returned home safely and on time. Students were dropped off at designated points within their villages, where their parents/guardians were waiting to receive them. During the return journey, the students shared their thoughts and stories, reflecting on the day's activities and discussing their favourite experiences.

The educational tour was a resounding success, providing the students with an enriching, hands-on learning experience that extended beyond the classroom. This exposure visit deepened the students understanding of science and technology and gain practical insights into how these concepts are applied in the real world. The interactive and engaging nature of the tour left a lasting impression on the students, creating cherished memories.

The day not only expanded their academic knowledge but also nurtured their curiosity, creativity, and sense of wonder, all of which will contribute to their future educational growth.
